 Graves missed Air Force & UC Irvine wins in 2018-19 while on suspension*

Kelly Graves enters his 11th season at the helm of the Oregon women's basketball program in 2024-25. He was named the seventh head coach in program history on April 7, 2014. On March 20, 2019, Graves and UO agreed to terms on a contract extension that will keep him in Eugene through at least the 2025-26 season.

Graves enters 2024-25 with an overall record of 221-111 during his 10 seasons with the Ducks, including an impressive 102-76 mark in conference play. Graves led Oregon to three straight Pac-12 regular-season championships from 2018-20, as well as the Pac-12 Tournament title in both 2018 and 2020. The Ducks reached the Elite Eight for the first time in program history in both 2017 and 2018 before reaching Oregon's first-ever Final Four in 2019. Graves had the Ducks at 31-2 overall and in position for the program's first-ever No. 1 seed in the NCAA Tournament in 2020 before the postseason was cancelled due to the COVID-19 pandemic.

A two-time winner of the John R. Wooden Pac-12 Coach of the Year award, Graves owns a 648-293 overall record in 30 seasons as a collegiate head coach and a 603-273 mark in 27 seasons at the Division-I level.

Graves has coached some of the premier players in the history of women's basketball, including Oregon legend Sabrina Ionescu (2016-20). Ionescu is the only player in NCAA history (women and men) to surpass 2,000 career points, 1,000 career rebounds and 1,000 career assists, and she was the unanimous national player of the year as a senior in 2019-20. Courtney Vandersloot - who played under Graves at Gonzaga - is the only other player in history to reach 2,000 points and 1,000 assists.

» Sabrina Ionescu became the first Duck ever to win the prestigious Wooden Award on April 12, 2019 after leading Oregon to its first-ever Final Four appearance.

» After foregoing the 2019 WNBA Draft to return for her senior season, Ionescu joined Breanna Stewart, Brittney Griner, Maya Moore, Candace Parker and Seimone Augustus as the only two-time winners of the Wooden Award.

» By repeating as the Wooden Award winner in 2020, Ionescu completed a clean sweep of the major national player of the year awards for the 2019-20 season after a stellar senior year.

» The Wooden Award has been presented annually to the nation's most outstanding women's basketball player by the Los Angeles Athletic Club since 2004.

» Ionescu set the NCAA single-season record with eight triple-doubels as both a junior and a senior to finish her career with 26, more than twice as many as any other man or woman in NCAA basketball history.

QUOTABLE

"It's historical," head coach Kelly Graves said after Ionescu completed the national awards sweep. "To see what she's doing – I don't know how often this has been done where one player sweeps everything. And those that have done it would be considered the icons of the game – and I think you can include her there."

KILKENNY FLOOR & MATT LOGO

» The court at Matthew Knight Arena has a fresh new look for Oregon's first season in the Big Ten Conference.
» Highlighting the new Kilknenny Court surface are a more prominent 'O' logo at center court, a reimagining of the tree design reminding opponents they're playing "Deep in the Woods" when they come to Eugene, and other touches conceptualized by the design team at Van Horne Brands.
» Floor design and concept is a nod to the Tall Firs, the nickname of Oregon's 1939 national championship winning men's basketball team, and three logos on the floor are an homage to the family of former Oregon athletic director Pat Kilkenny.
» More than 270 photos of trees from around the Northwest were taken to incorporate in the design, reinforcing the deep roots of the university in the region.
» The Killkenny Court mark at each end includes a new image blending a shamrock with the Duck foot, honoring the "Lucky Duck" charitable foundation started in 2005 by Stephanie and Pat Kilkenny.
» The unique logo, located near the sideline on each half, spells out "MATT" in a toothy grin reminiscing Matthew Knight - the late son of Nike founder Phil Knight - as a child.
» The surface incorporates a tribute to the arena's namesake, who passed away in 2004. Near each baseline are images of Ducks flying in a "missing man" formation, with a gap in the flying-V formation to symbolize the legacy and memory of Matthew Knight.

Oregon's legendary "Big Three" of SABRINA IONESCU (middle), SATOU SABALLY (right) and RUTHY HEBARD made history in 2020, becoming the first three Oregon players ever to be selected in the first round of a WNBA Draft and only the seventh trio of players from the same team to all be taken within the first 10 picks of the same draft. Ionescu and Sabally became just the fourth pair of teamates ever to go 1-2 in the same WNBA Draft.

NATIONAL TEAM HISTORY

NO. 1 TOPPLES NO. 1! OREGON KNOCKS OFF TEAM USA

NOVEMBER 9, 2019 | EUGENE, ORE. | MATTHEW KNIGHT ARENA | ATTENDANCE: 11,530

Story by Rob Moseley, GoDucks.com

Don't tell the Oregon women's basketball team there's nothing on the line in an exhibition game.

In fact, don't tell the Ducks anything. Because they just might turn around and use it to beat you.

Even if you're the latest iteration of arguably the greatest dynasty in the history of organized team sports.

The top-ranked team in women's college basketball beat the best team in the entire world on Saturday, November 9, 2019. Sabrina Ionescu and the UO women's basketball team hosted an exhibition against the United States women's national team before 11,530 fans in Matthew Knight Arena, and won, 93-86.

It had been 20 years since a college team last beat Team USA. The Ducks' fellow Pac-12 preseason favorites, Stanford and Oregon State, had chances earlier in the month and couldn't do what the Ducks did. Nor could Texas A&M, earlier in the week.

Based on those games, Team USA legend Sue Bird said she knew what to expect against the Ducks and their raucous home crowd.

"They're gonna come out, they're gonna throw the first punch, it's gonna get loud," Bird said. "I think the difference with Oregon was, they never quit. Some of the other teams, we maybe wore them down a bit. But not this team."

For that, Bird could credit an unlikely source – her own teammate and fellow UConn alum.The night before the game, Diana Taurasi spoke to the Ducks for nearly an hour. The essence of her message: "Stay mad."

Don't get complacent after making the 2019 Final Four. Don't get caught up in the hype of preseason expectations. Don't lose your will to do more than the other team.

When the Ducks went into halftime, their deficit was just four, 42-38. Earlier in the week, UO coach Kelly Graves said it would be delusional to think Oregon had a chance to win the game. At halftime, it didn't seem so delusional.

Before leaving the locker room for the second half, the Ducks huddled up and shouted, in unison: "Stay mad!" Then they went out and played mad.

Led by 20 points from Ionescu in the third quarter alone, Oregon took a one-point lead into the fourth period. Then, they gapped Team USA, with a three-point barrage by Ionescu and Satou Sabally.

"Diana told us to stay mad," Ionescu said. "We didn't want to come out complacent. We didn't want to come out excited we were only down four at half. So we came out in the third quarter, and we stayed mad, just like she told us. So, thank you to her for helping us with that win."

The dynamic between Taurasi and Ionescu was apparent from the start. Just before tipoff, their pregame handshake and quick hug was a little more extended than the others among the two teams' starters. At one point in the first half, Taurasi tipped a pass that Ionescu turned over, and Taurasi grinned as if to say, "I got ya, kid."

Then, in the postgame handshake line, they shared another hug. If you squinted a little bit, you could almost see it as a passing of the torch, from one generation of do-everything American guard to the next.

"I think the difference with Oregon was, they never quit. Some of the other teams, we maybe wore them down a bit. But not this team." - SUE BIRD, four-time WNBA champion

Ionescu had just led the Ducks in their upset with 30 points, plus seven assists and four rebounds. Sabally added 25 points, including back-to-back three-pointers that forced Team USA coach Cheryl Reeve to call timeout and stanch the bleeding with Oregon up 79-69 early in the fourth quarter.

Reeve is also coach of the WNBA's Minnesota Lynx, and she didn't mince words when asked what kind of future Ionescu and Sabally could have at the professional level.

"They're going to be great players," Reeve said. "Not just hanging on – they're going to be great players in the WNBA."

It was Oregon's other high-level pro prospect who led the Ducks in the early going. Ruthy Hebard, battled-tested after facing current pros Teaira McCowan of Mississippi State and Kalani Brown of Baylor in the 2019 NCAA Tournament, was unfazed by going head-to-head against Team USA's Sylvia Fowles.

Hebard opened each half with a defensive stop against Fowles on the low block. She ran the pick-and-roll with Ionescu with precision, and even put the ball on the floor a couple of times and drove right to the bucket against Fowles.

Despite that effort from Hebard, Team USA was looking to pull away early in the second quarter, up 29-20. That's when Graves turned to a lineup that included Sabally, backup post Lydia Giomi, and young wings Taylor Chavez, Jaz Shelley and Holly Winterburn. They kept the Ducks in the game, with energy that was contagious. Ionescu and Hebard fed off it, and closed the gap after re-entering the lineup to get Oregon within 42-38 at halftime.
"Ruthy carried us early in the game," Graves said. "And then, when Sabrina kind of got her legs under her a little bit ..."

The third quarter was nothing short of basketball brilliance, a player at the top of her game looking to prove herself against the team that has won the last six Olympic gold medals. Ionescu drove to the basket, launched three-pointers from all over the floor, dove on the court for loose balls and at one point even flung herself into a row of photographers to keep a possession alive – then retook the court, got the ball back and drew a foul.

Sure, the game wasn't going to count toward Oregon's record. But that didn't matter to a player whose competitive fire Bird cited postgame as the quality in Ionescu she found most impressive.

"We knew they were the best team in the world, the best players in the world," Ionescu said. "We were just wanting to stay within 20. As the game wore on, we started to forget about who they were and what the expectations were."

It was Sabally who hit the biggest baskets down the stretch. After her back-to-back threes that forced the Team USA timeout, she made another bucket to cap an 11-0 run that put Oregon up 81-69. She scored again after Team USA got within five, putting the Ducks up 85-78, and again for an 87-80 lead, and yet again for an 89-84 advantage with just 35 seconds left in the game.

"She's incredible," Graves said. "She was out here going against some of the world's best, and was able to get her shot, create her shot. She was as aggressive as I've ever seen."

For the game, Oregon shot 50 percent. The Ducks won the rebounding battle. Who saw that coming?

Nobody could have predicted the preseason No. 1 team in the country finding a way to exceed expectations. But they did that Saturday in November 2019. It wasn't part of the "unfinished business" that fueled Ionescu and company after their Final Four loss in 2018-19. But as the opening chapter in the 2019-20 season, it made for an unforgettable night.
